Mr. Hobson's Lecture.

Quite an interest has been aroused in the series of lectures which have been held recently in the Town Hall, by members of the Bible Students' Association from Edmonton. On Sunday last the speaker was Mr F. Hobson, who gave an interpretation of "Millions now living will never die." The discourse proved very interesting, the speaker making numerous quotations from the Bible in proof of his statements. This was Mr Hobson's first visit to Stony Plain since 1913, when he delivered a lecture in the Town Hall, on behalf of the Bible Students.

There will be a big meeting of the Students in the New Empire Theatre, Edmonton, on the evening of Sunday, November 13th, when the speaker will be Mr Roberts, who has an international reputation.

Pupils' Hallowe'n Party.

A very enjoyable party, to celebrate Hallowe'en, was held Saturday evening, at the local schoolhouse. The participants were the pupils of the two higher rooms, and their friends. Games of all kinds appropriate to the occasion were indulged in, much to the amusement of the on-lookers. There was a goodly sprinkling of parents present, and these seemed to enjoy the sports to as great an extent as the younger set. A lunch was served by the teachers and ladies interested in the pupils, and all left for their homes about 11 p. m., voting that they had had a very enjoyable time.

Great credit is due the teachers for their efforts in promoting these enjoyable affairs, which bring together pupils of the different classes outside the school hours. These efforts certainly are appreciated by parents and all who take an interest in school matters.

Each article in toe Store has undergone this test, and the buying public has the satisfaction of knowing that whatever is bought at this Store is based on present-day values, which in many cases have declined considerably. Where Railway Revenue Comes From Certain statements made before the board of arbitration at Ottawa on the wage disputes between Canadian National Railways and their employees would appear to have a direct bearing on Canada's outstanding financial problem, namely, how to put an end to the appalling deficits in the operation of the national railway system.

Ever since the deficit on the Canadian National Railways was shown some time ago to amount to a million dollars or more a week, statesmen, financiers, railway managers, and last but not least, Canadian taxpayers, have been deeply concerned in striving to find some way of relief from such disastrous losses. While politicians have been striving to load the responsibility for creating conditions leading to these deficits upon political opponents, and while pessimists have talked blue ruin and inevitable bankruptcy, men with constructive minds and not at all concerned with pettiness which is always to be found in politics, have seriously advanced suggestions with an eye single to the good of the railways and the welfare of the Dominion.

Probably the suggestion which has attracted greatest attention and carried most weight with thoughtful people is that only through an increase in population, with consequent increase in production, and therefore in railway traffic, can the true and lasting remedy be found. Economics effected in operation costs at the expense of efficient service might serve to temporarily reduce the deficit, but such reduction would only be of a temporary character and in the long run would prove to have been pennywise and pound foolish. More traffic, and therefore greater earning power, offers the only permanent solution.

The question then presents itself: How to bring about that increase in traffic? In this column we have urged the adoption of a vigorous and well directed immigration policy with a view to bringing about the settlement without further delay of the enormous area of untitled lands in the West, and the prosecution of such a policy without intermission until the desired result has been achieved.

In this connection it is to be noted that the statements made before the board of arbitration at Ottawa already referred to are highly significant. They have a direct bearing on this question, and certainly go to support the arguments already advanced. Addressing the board of arbitration, F. P. Brady, of the Canadian National Railways, declared that the railways would be better off without passenger traffic, and that sleeping cars and observation cars were invariably a source of loss, while A. C. Egan, for the Canadian National, made the statement that all the railway's profits are made during the last five months of the year when the grain is moving.

Of course, passenger traffic must be cared for whether it is a paying proposition or not, but if observation cars, which are a luxury and not a necessity, invariably lose money, then they should be reduced to a minimum or discarded altogether. Furthermore, inasmuch as it is only the well-to-do who make use of sleeping cars, rates should be advanced to a figure where such cars would not be operated at a loss, even though they did not produce a profit. Or the rate should be reduced to a figure that would make it possible for the less well-to-do to use them, thus obviating these cars running across the continent only partly filled. Volume at a less rate would be more profitable than partly empty cars. The average Canadian taxpayer should not be called upon to provide comfort for others which he cannot himself afford to enjoy.

The amount of money it requires to build a sleeping car or an observation car will build several freight cars, and according to these railway officials, it is freight that produces profits. Again, be it noted, freight profits are piled up when there is a heavy and continuous freight movement, as in the case when the grain is moving. It is not the haulage of the products of the factories that keeps the railways busy during the last five months of the year, but the products of the farms. But if, through immigration and the creation of conditions which will keep the people on the land, the number of cultivated farms in Canada are doubled, or trebled, as is quite possible, not only would the volume of grain traffic be enormously increased during the last five months of the year, with still larger profits to the railways, but these additional millions of people on the farms would create an enormous demand for manufactured goods, fuel, lumber and merchandise of all kinds, which would provide a much heavier freight traffic throughout the other seven months of the year.

What our Canadian railways need more than anything else is more traffic to keep profitably loaded trains rolling over the tens of thousands of miles of rails in this country. In order to create that larger traffic there must be more people in Canada—people who in the first place produce something from the almost limitless natural resources of this Dominion, and who, in turn, would require to be supplied with those things manufactured and otherwise, which they do not themselves produce, but must have to sustain life and enable them to carry on their work of production.

A national policy to encourage production is the only way to save the National Railways and make them earners of profits instead of producers of deficits.

Sure Protection For You While You Travel

You may find the water bad, some food and food may be quite unreliable, a draught from a car window may give you an ache or pain—a cold room or damp sheets may cause rheumatic twinges. Remember this—any pain that is caused by congestion yields rapidly to Nerviline. When your stomach is sour and upset, just try the magical effect of twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water. If cramps waken you in the dead of night, Nerviline will fit those awful cramps in a hurry. Keep a 25-cent bottle of Nerviline in hand—always.

Inconceivable. "Now look here, Johnson, this man is doing double the work you do." "That's what I've been telling him, sir, but he won't stop."

Rub it in for Lame Back—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the rheumatic winds in the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

A DESIRE TO EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Stomachs Can be Restored to a Healthy Condition.

"Not to be limited in diet, but to eat whatever he pleases is the dream of every dyspeptic. No one can honestly promise to restore the stomach to this happy condition, because all people cannot eat the same things with equal facility. It is possible to so tone up the digestive organs that a pleasing diet may be selected from articles of food that cause no discomfort."

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer the best way to enrich the blood. For this reason these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended by thin blood, and in attacks of nervous dyspepsia. Proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of indigestion is given by Mr. John A. McDonald, Toronto, N.S., who says: "Every sufferer from indigestion has my heartfelt sympathy, as I was once myself a bond slave to it. Eating at all became a trial, and as time went on I became a mere skeleton of my former self. I took all sorts of recommended medicines, 'doctors' and advertised, but to no avail. Then a friend said to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got a box and I thought before they were done I could feel a change. Then I got six boxes more, and by the time they were used I was eating my meals with regularity and enjoyment. My general health is now good, and it is no wonder that I am an enthusiastic advocate of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any druggist in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The date is as essential an article of diet to the Egyptian as rice is to the Hindu.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quincy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Beds, tables, chairs and stools are shown in Egyptian carvings as far back as 4,000 B.C.

Millions For Roads In West

Twenty Million Will be Spent on Rural Highways.

At least $20,000,000 will be spent on highways and market roads in Western Canada during the next five years, according to the provincial programmes which have now been submitted and approved by the Federal authorities.

Manitoba's programme provides for the construction of 4,000 miles of roads at an estimated cost of $6,602,250. The Dominion Government Act providing for subsidies will result in reimbursing the province to the extent of $1,402,265. Saskatchewan has outlined construction covering 2,500 miles which is expected to cost $5,225,500, of which $1,806,255 will be repaid by the Federal Government. Alberta intends to go ahead with 2,475 miles of roadway, the estimated cost of which is $2,894,525. Of this sum $1,775,515 will be paid by the Federal Government. This programme is for rural roads and does not include the sums which will be spent as civic enterprise. The highway systems of the three prairie provinces will be thus linked up.

Editor Stony Plain Sun:

DEAR SIR: A few years ago, when beef was 18c a lb. on the hoof; sugar 22c a lb.; potatoes $2 a bu.; and flour 'way up, meals went up to 45c apiece. Now, with beef 2¹/₂c on the hoof (when the farmer can get it); sugar 10c lb.; potatoes, 25c a bu. (when you can find a buyer); and the price of flour cut in half, meals are still 45c.

A farmer don't realise how cheap grain is, until he figures it takes 2 bu. 20c worth to buy 5c worth of meat, 1c worth of potatoes, and a few other trimmings at a Chink restaurant.

Why don't The Sun get only profiteers left? Don't Chinks know prices on everything else have come down, except meals? Yours, Traffic Bridge at Entwistle.

Today a delegation of the Edmonton Automobile and Good Roads association meets Alexandria Ross, minister of public works, to ask that construction work be started on a new low level bridge across the Pembina river between Entwistle and Eva sturg. At the present time a ferry is being operated across the Pembina river at this point, at a cost of over $1,200 a year. The ferry is in operation only at such times as the water is at normal level. During the season of high or low water, operation of the ferry is impossible.

The citizens of Entwistle and Evansburg district wish to have direct communication established between the two towns, as business suffers materially when the ferry is unable to operate. This bridge will necessarily have to be built to connect the Jasper highway with Edmonton.

Labor Parties All Balled Up.

The Labor parties in Edmonton seem to be in somewhat of a mess, regarding preparations for the coming Federal election. With the split between the Dominion Labor Party and the U.F.A., there is a strong probability that the Laborites will have candidates in all three Edmonton ridings.

The Independent Labor Party will also run a candidate in East Edmonton.

With a Liberal candidate nominated in each of the three Edmonton ridings; three U.F.A. candidates; three Laborites; and a few Conservatives, there promises to be as interesting a contest as the one last July.

Cattle Sale at Calgary.

The big Cattle and Swine Show and Sale at Calgary last week was quite a success; when the high quality of the animals offered is considered, although the prices obtained did not come up to the record of other years.

Holsteins was the only entry in the dairy cattle class, and good cows brought good prices, 9 cows selling for an average of $180. Bonnie Brae Silver, a 4-yr-old cow belonging to Laycock of Okotoks brought $260.

Mr Wm Gilbert, the enterprising proprietor of Sunnybrook Farm, was fortunate in securing $150 apiece for two of his purebred yearling Holstein bulls, these going to Laycroft of Dunton and Moor of Bindloss.

At the Swine Sale, $50.00 was paid for a Berkshire boar; this being the high price of the sale.

Mr Gilbert got a couple of cheap ones from the Dominion Experimental Station at Lacombe, the prices being $9 ann $12.50.

DISTRESS IN THE THROAT CAUSED GREAT ANXIETY

Not an uncommon experience, was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmut, of Shule, N.S. "Many remedies failed, still splendid results were found in 'Catarrhazone.' I have been a most dreadful sufferer from bronchial trouble and Catarrh, on many days I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines but didn't get a permanent relief till I used Catarrhazone. It strengthened my throat, stopped my cough, and made me well." During the drive homeward his thoughts persistently turned to the share his wife had had in Beulah's departure, and his feeling toward Mary grew more and more hostile. Not that he altogether disbelieved her when she professed ignorance of the young couple's intention; he could not go so far as to think that she had lied to him, but he was inwardly convinced that she had at least an inkling of their plans, and that, so far from attempting to dissuade them, she was really in sympathy with their wild escapade. Harris was very fond of his wife, who had shared with him all the hardships of pioneer life, and who, he admitted, had been a faithful and devoted helpmate, and her desertion of him in the present crisis was therefore all the less to be excused or condoned. He resolved, however, that there should be no open breach between them; he would neither ask nor question her, but would impress her with his displeasure by adoption of a cold matter-of-fact, speak when you're spoken-to attitude toward her.

Under the circumstances it was not remarkable that Harris's work began to loom larger than ever in his life. The space left vacant by his daughter he filled with extra energy driving the great ploughs through the mellow summer-fallow. A new plank man was engaged, and the rumble of the engine was heard up and down the fields from early morning until dark. From his wife he held aloof, speaking with strained courtesy when speech was necessary. She, in turn, schooled for years in self-enclosed, hid her sorrow in her heart, and went about her work with a resignation which he mistook for cheerfulness, and which confirmed him in his opinion.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect."

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can truly testify today to the great benefit received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to all who use it quick and permanent relief if I have given me."

tion that she knew more of Beulah's intentions than she had cared to admit. Only with Allan his relations remained unchanged; indeed, the attachment between the two grew deeper. The young man avoided any reference to Beulah; what he felt in his own heart he kept to himself, but his father shrewdly guessed that he laid the whole blame on Travers.

So the summer wore on; the black boom of the fallow field widened day by day, and the smell of growing wheat filled the dew-laden evening air. The picnic season, the time of athletic competitions, baseball games, and rural sociability, rolled by, but Harris scarcely knew of the passing. He had long ago ceased to take any personal interest in the frivolities of the neighbourhood; he saw in picnics and baseball games only an unprofitable misuse of time, and when he thought of them at all it was to congratulate himself that Allan was not led away by any such foolishness. Finding no great happiness in his own home, he had fallen into the way of walking over to Rile's on Sunday afternoons, and the two spent many hours in discussion of their proposed land-seeking expedition.

Meanwhile Mary plodded along with her housework, toiling doggedly from five in the morning until half-past nine or ten at night. Beulah's departure had left all the labours of the home upon her hands; her husband had made no suggestion of securing help, and she had no help. The new man made no offer to milk any of the cows; a dozen hours in the field was day enough for him, and whatever time was over he spent smoking cigarettes in the shelter of the barn. Allan occasionally did help with the milking, and more frequently with turning the separator, but it was as if he were not there. He was in the field as she was sorry for him, and tried to make the best of it. One or two postcards she had had from Beulah, but they were of no great interest. They came in the open mail; her husband was welcome to read them if he were so minded, but she had thought his company exclusively since Beulah's departure she would not attempt to force it upon him.

At last one morning came a letter, a big fat letter, left in by a neighbour passing by, as the custom was for any settler going to town to bring out the mail for those who lived along his route. She tore the envelope open nervously and devoured its contents with hungry eyes.

"My Dear Mother,"
"Here I am, in the shadow of the Rockies. That may sound poetical, but it's a literal fact. It is still early in the evening, but the heat has disappeared behind the great masses to the west, and the valley which my window looks into is filling up with blackness. The Arcturuses are pure gold, and I have told them everything. They don't blame anyone, not even father. How is he? Slaving as usual, I suppose."

"Well, I must tell you about my trip. When I left the house that night I had no idea where I was going, but the simplest thing seemed to be to go first to Plainville. The North Star led that way, and it seemed a guide to follow. As I walked the lights came out in the Arctic sky a great bow of them, swelling and fading in their delicate lines. I watched them and plodded along, trying not to think very much about anything."

"You've no idea how heavy that suitcase got, but I took my time, as there was nothing to gain by reaching town before daylight. When I got there it struck me it might be a good plan to have some breakfast, so I walked round to Goode's boarding-house. Mrs. Goode was bustling about, and I received me with open arms. 'Well, my Land! if it ain't Beulah Harris!' she exclaimed—'the always called me Beulah—Goodness, child, what are you doing about this early in the morning? But there, I needn't ask, knowin' what a worker your father is. I'll be bound he drove you in before sunrise to lose no time with his ploughin'.' Well, that's what makes the mare go. I wish my man had some of it—he's smorin' up on the second floor at this minute like to lift the shingles. I often say to myself, 'For the little he does and the lot he eats the Lord knows what keeps him so thin.' (It's a grievance of Mrs. Goode's that her husband won't fatten up; she thinks it's a reflection on her cooking.) 'And with your suitcase! You'll be taking the train? West, is it, or East? But you'll be hungry, child. Take off your things there while I see to my buns—I always give the boarders hot buns for breakfast—' you know how she rattles on. But she's a good soul, if a bit conceited over her cooking, and wouldn't take a cent for my keep either. Of course she didn't wait for me to answer her questions, and she really suggested the plan which I took. After breakfast I went over to the station, and asked what the fare was to Arctur's station. I found I had enough money for the trip, and I bought a ticket without further ado."

"I won't try to tell you all about my trip—it would take a book. But what a country it is! Of course I had learned in school that there was about two feet of map between the Red River and the Rockies, but there's only one way to know how big it is, and that's to travel it. If you've got any imagination at all trip over these enormous prairies must set it stirring. For the most part there's no settlement; not a house, nor stack, nor any sign of life. Pretty much like Manitoba was, I guess, when you first saw it, but bigger and grander, and more suggestive of the future. You see, Manitoba has made good, for all the doubts and this bigger West will do the same, on a bigger scale. As we rolled along through that unbroken prairie, with here and there a great herd of horses or cattle in the distance, I felt at last that I was really beginning to live. Not that I was doing anything grander than running away from home, but still that feeling came over me—the feeling that here was a country where things were going to happen, and that I was going to play some part in their happening."

"Well, if I ramble on like this it'll be a real book after all. Calgary is the big cow-town of the West, just beginning to aspire to higher—or lower (there's a real question there)—civilization, and mixing science and silks on its streets in a strange struggle between the past and the future. But my stay there was short, as I was able to catch my branch train with little delay, and that night saw me at Arctur's nearest station. The homestead rush is on here in earnest; the trains are crowded thickly with Americans, and the hotels are simply spilling over. They're a motley crowd, these homesteaders. Down with us, you know, the settlers were looking for homes, and a chance to make a living, but here they must be money—the long green, they call it. Their idea is to prove up and sell their lands, when they will either move or leave the country. But the great point is that they are after money rather than homes. They belong to a class which has been rushing for a generation ahead of a wave of high land values—I heard a man say that in the train, and I made a note of it—they're rovers by birth and training, with no great home fastness. To them one place is as good as another—provided always there's money to be made there—and one day is almost as good as another. Of course this will right itself in time; the first flood of land-seekers are gold-miners, but the second are home-builders—the man said that too; yet see I'm picking things up. I can't know about some of the weather—and about that second flood comes this country won't know itself."

"But to come back to the hotel; that's what I did when I had taken a good walk about the little town, and admired myself almost homestead looking at the fine horses led to hitching-posts, and fine men swaggering about in the abandon of cowboy costumes. One thing I have learned already, and the discovery shocked me a little at first; the cowboy considers himself better than the farmer—the 'buster' he calls him—and treats him with good-humoured contempt. I wanted to ask someone about Arctur, and I didn't like to inquire in the hotel. There was a lot of drinking going there. But near the door there were two young men talking, and I overheard one of them mention Arctur's name. Pulling myself together, I asked him if he could tell me where Arctur's lived."

"Yes, miss," he answered, lifting a big hat and showing when he spoke a clean set of teeth. "It's twenty-five miles up the river. Were you expecting him to meet you?"

"I explained that I had intended to drop in on them by surprise, but I had no idea they lived so far from town."

Mrs. Rose M. Brown Gained 20 Pounds In Four Weeks Time

Declares It's Simply Astonishing To See The Wonderful Benefits She Has Derived From Tanlac -- Says Terrible Headaches Have Disappeared.

"It sounds unreasonable, but I have actually gained 20 pounds in less than a month's time by taking Tanlac and the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of this medicine is simply astonishing," said Mrs. Rose M. Brown, 111 Third Street, Manchester, N. H.

"Why, I am so happy to be relieved of my troubles, I can really never praise this medicine enough. Up to the time I began taking Tanlac I suffered for something over two years with a very bad form of stomach trouble."

"My appetite was so poor I could scarcely eat a thing. My stomach would be so badly bloated with gas sometimes I was almost afraid to go to bed for fear I would actually smother. I felt tired and worn out most of the time and became terribly discouraged over my condition. I often had such violent headaches I was unable to be out of bed for two or three days at a stretch."

"Four bottles of Tanlac completely restored my health and anyone can see at a glance the wonderful change that has taken place in my condition. I have a splendid appetite now and the stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. I can eat just anything I want without ever feeling a sign of indigestion. The best of all, I am never bothered any more with headaches and this was the greatest relief of all. I want to tell everybody that this medicine has done for me."

Charge Spanish Officers Have Ill-treated British In Foreign Legion

London.—Great Britain has asked Spain to allow a British representative to proceed to Morocco to make an independent and impartial inquiry into allegations of ill-treatment by Spanish officers of British subjects who have enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons by Cecil Harcourt, under secretary for foreign affairs, in answer to a question by Earl Winterston. The latter asked if the Government were aware of the serious allegations made against Spanish military authorities by British subjects, mostly ex-service men, recently enlisted in the Spanish foreign legion, who claim that conditions of pay and service, promised by Spanish consuls here, have not been carried out.

Earl Winterston asked further if the Government were aware that some of the British who protested were ill-treated, robbed and sent to Gibraltar, and that others who actually joined the legion had been kicked and beaten by Spanish officers.

A number of Canadian ex-service men are included in the British subjects who enlisted for service in Morocco. One vessel that sailed from New York during the past summer with recruits for the Spanish foreign legion, carried 32 men who had seen service in the Canadian forces during the war.

Will Protect Upper Silesia Decision

New German Government Says Settlement Was Illegal.

Berlin.—The Reichstag voted confidence in the new ministry of Dr. Brüning. The vote was 239 against 132. The majority was made up of Majority Socialists, Independent Socialists, Centreists and Democrats. Chancellor Brüning declared that the new government's viewpoint regarding Upper Silesia differs in no way from that of the preceding government. He declared the German Government would protest against the recent decision of the council of the League of Nations concerning Upper Silesia on the ground of the illegality of the Allied Supreme Council having referred the question to the League of Nations. This procedure, he said, was not provided for by the treaty of Versailles.

Quake Alarms Italy.

Milan.—Earthquake shocks were felt in the cities of Massa and Carrara on the Tuscan coast of Italy. Considerable damage was done and the frightened people of both cities camped during the night in the open fields. Despatches from Florence state that a cyclone has ravaged that city.

MOTHERS!

WATCH YOUR TEETHING BABIES THOUSANDS OF THEM DIE EVERY SUMMER

When the baby starts to cut its teeth, then is the time the poor mother is under the stress of great anxiety. The child's bowels become loose, and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and many other bowel troubles manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

On the first indication of any looseness of the bowels, give a few doses of and thus, perhaps, save your baby's life. For the past 76 years "Dr. Fowler's" has been used by mothers for teething babies so you do not experiment with a new and untried remedy which might be dangerous to your darling's health.

Tree Planting Car Was Well Attended

Prairie Farmers Received Valuable Information From Mr. Mitchell.

The Tree Planting Campaign in Western Canada, inaugurated by the Canadian Forestry Association last year, received a material boost through the tour of the Association's Tree Planting Car during the past five months. The car was in charge of Mr. Archibald Mitchell again, and during the summer it travelled 8,800 miles. The total attendance this year was over 49,000 at 369 lectures, which demonstrates that the prairie farmers are keenly interested in the subject. For several weeks the car was attached to the Saskatchewan Government's "Better Farming Train" and during this time 32,774 persons saw the car and heard Mr. Mitchell lecture. Scores of farmers brought their tree planting problems to the attention of Mr. Mitchell and he received personal consideration. A special feature of the tour this year was the assistance rendered municipalities in planning and laying out parks. Plans and detailed instructions for planting were supplied gratis to a number of towns.

Many prairie farmers hitherto believed that to plant a windbreak or a few trees around their homes was a costly operation and beyond their slender means. In his lectures Mr. Mitchell demonstrated that such is not the case and that with the expenditure of a little time and money wonders could be worked if the farmer went about the job in the right way. Many failures to successfully grow trees in localities where soil-drought occurs or where moisture is scarce has resulted in no trees being planted. The tree planting campaign aims to show the farmer how to plant, what to plant and when to plant, no matter what the moisture conditions may be. A well laid out windbreak means a great deal on a farm as a protection for the crops. A few trees about the house makes the house a home and brings a measure of contentment not found when there are no trees.

Record Grain Shipment

C.P.R. Moved 1,579 Loaded Cars in 24 Hours.

Winnipeg, Man.—The Canadian Pacific Railway broke the world's record as far as grain handling is concerned by moving east from Winnipeg 1,579 loaded cars in 24 hours. These cars were handled in 41 trains and contained between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 bushels of grain. If the cars were placed in a continuous line without the locomotives attached, they would cover a distance of twelve miles.

Plan Restoration Of Monarchy

New Cabinet Will Soon Be Formed In Portugal.

Madrid.—Portuguese Royalists are plotting the re-establishment of a monarchy in that country. It is learned in advices from Lisbon. A decision relative to the Royalist plot has been sent to the foreign minister in Lisbon by the Portuguese consul at Tur, Spain.

Complete calm reigns over Portugal, and it is reported a new cabinet composed almost entirely of members of the Republican Guard will be formed soon. Newspapers here point with reservations, reports that the president of the Portuguese republic will resign shortly because of ill-health.

Prince Of Wales Goes To India

Political Unrest In East Causes Anxiety Over Trip.

London.—The Prince of Wales left the Victoria Station at noon today for Portsmouth to embark on the battleship Renown for a tour of India and Japan. A great crowd outside the station gave Britain's heir-apparent an enthusiastic send-off, while on the platform were King George, Queen Mary, Princess Mary, Prime Minister Lloyd George, several members of the British Cabinet, U.S. Ambassador Harvey, Japanese Ambassador Hayashi and other distinguished personages.

Anxiety over the Prince's journey has been caused by the troubled political conditions in India. The possibility of an attack on him is minimized here but it is feared the Indian Nationalists led by Mahatma Gandhi, may possibly attempt to carry out their threat to kill strikes in each city visited by the Prince.

Should Double Japs' War Construction

U.S. Engineer Suggests Counter-Action If Conference Fails.

San Francisco.—The U.S. should build two warships for every one constructed by Japan if the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments fails of its purpose. John Hays Hammond, internationally known mining engineer, declared here upon his return aboard the liner Golden State after three months in the Orient.

Japan has already an unfavorable trade balance and she realizes it means the depletion of her gold resources to attempt to keep pace with this country in war construction.

Montreal.—That the Japanese are going to the Washington conference with something that amounts to an ultimatum, was the view expressed here by Col. Robert H. McCormick, president of the Chicago Tribune, who is passing through this city on his way back to Chicago from a holiday spent on the lower St. Lawrence.

Montreal.—White Aime Laboussiere, butcher, Mount Royal Avenue, was talking on the telephone in his store, two bandits entered and ordered him to throw up his hands at the point of revolvers, stole $750 from his pockets and then threw him into the refrigerator. He was rescued almost frozen to death some hours later.

Jacksonville, Fla.—The entire waterfront of St. Petersburg was wiped out by the gulf storm, the worst gale the city has ever experienced, according to a message received by the Times Union.

Fort Meyers, Fla.—The heaviest gale this section has known in several years raged here for thirty-six hours, attaining a maximum velocity of one hundred miles an hour. Transmission service was prostrated while the property loss for Lee County is expected to total well over a million and a half dollars.

Reports from Sanabel and Capiva Islands said that water covered the entire islands. Estero Island, near here, on which two beach resorts are located, was badly damaged, the cottages and other buildings being wrecked.

Local railroad officials said this city would be without transportation service for three days. The highways out of Fort Meyers are almost impassable, and many houses in Pantaras were either badly damaged or washed away.

Strike In South Africa Settled

Skilled Artisans Have Compromised On Wage Difference.

London.—A Reuter despatch from Cape Town, South Africa, reports the settlement of the strike called on October 7 by the skilled artisans employed by that municipality.

The strike arose out of an announced ten per cent. cut in wages, which it was claimed by the men, was a violation of the existing agreement. The settlement was on the basis of a compromise, whereby certain of the men who have long service records will be placed on a fixed establishment, with privileges, while the remainder will receive the trade rates without any privileges.

The Man of the Hour

In this hour of Canada's most acute national crisis, the country's greatest need is leadership—not class leadership, not sectional leadership, but NATIONAL leadership. A pilot must be chosen possessing the necessary courage, foresight, breadth of vision and determination to lead the nation safely out of the existing economic uncertainty.

And one man stands out head and shoulders above all others as pre-eminently fitted for the task.

Born on a farm near St. Mary's, Ontario, Arthur Meighen is a true son of the people, a toiler who has fought his way to eminence by sheer ability and force of intellect. Entered Parliament in 1908; appointed Solicitor-General in 1914; Minister of the Interior in 1917; and Prime Minister in 1920.

At the Imperial Conference he was acclaimed by the Press of Great Britain as a great statesman, as a strong, virile, vigorous personality—alert in mind, keen and far-seeing in judgment, and with a fearless determination to stand for the right.

Professor A. D. Skelton, of Queen's University, and biographer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, wrote of the present Prime Minister:—"He has already given proof of high administrative capacity. His personal integrity is beyond question."

Of himself, Arthur Meighen said to his constituents the other day:—"You know where I stood on this issue in 1908, in 1911, and as in 1911 I stand to-day."

The Value of a Smile.

Down in Kansas City, a short time ago, little Jimmy Godfrey, aged thirteen, climbed a tree, to gather walnuts. He came in contact with an electric wire. One side of his face was burned, leaving an ugly scar.

A damage suit against the Electric Light Co. was instituted on Jimmy's behalf. The chief element of damage about which the claim centered was that Jimmy had lost his youthful smile.

When on the witness stand Jimmy was asked to try to smile. The only result was a puckering of the lips and a melancholy drawing of the face.

A physician testified that the smile muscle in his cheek had been bound by the scarred tissue above.

The jury promptly returned a verdict giving Jimmy $20,000.

This sum thereby becomes the officially fixed value of a smile.

World Happenings Briefly Told

John Boyd Dunlop, known as the inventor of the pneumatic tire, died in Dublin, aged 81.

A bandit held up a drug store in the heart of Vancouver and took $65 from the till, while the street was thronged with a theatre crowd and two policemen were exchanging small talk 50 yards from the store entrance.

By his expressed wish, Samuel Richard Grubb, a large Tipperary landowner and deputy lieutenant of the county, was buried on the remotest part of the mountain overlooking his estate.

The Department of Finance, Ottawa, acknowledges receipt in an envelope postmarked, "Ottawa, Oct. 22," of $6. A slip of paper contained in the envelope was marked "conscience money."

Three armed bandits in an automobile forced the driver of a mail truck to stop on lower Broadway, New York, while they rifled the truck of four pouches of registered mail valued at $1,000,000 by postal authorities.

Soldiers hurriedly compelled the evacuation of the population in the vicinity of the fort at Aubervilliers, two miles outside Paris, when fire broke out and caused the explosion of gas and other shells. The fort is one of the chain of 40 forts surrounding Paris.

The Eddystone Lighthouse

First One Was Built of Wood in 1698.

The Eddystone rocks are in the English Channel, nine miles south of the Cornish coast, and fourteen miles southwest of the Plymouth breakwater. They are submerged when the tide is in, and the water round them varies from 12 to 150 fathoms. In consequence of the frequent shipwrecks, Mr. Winstanley, in 1696, planned and built a lighthouse of wood 100 feet high. So confident was he of its safety, that he lived in it himself, and expressed a wish to be in it when the wildest storm that ever blew should come.

In 1703, a great storm raged. Before its full force broke, a passing boatman warned Winstanley of his danger, and offered to take him off. He refused, but when, after three awful days, the storm subsided it was found that the lighthouse and inventor had been swept away.

New Building Material

Straw Mixture Said to be More Durable Than Concrete.

Investigations conducted by experts at Alberta University have satisfactorily proved the possibility of making a building material out of straw. By a secret process chopped straw is mixed with other ingredients and the resulting composition is said to be a material capable of withstanding more severe tests than concrete. With the enormous quantity of straw available from the grain crops of the prairie provinces, little economic use of which is made at present, the success of the new material may revolutionize the building trade in the west.

Minard's Liniment for Distemper

Evening Gown Of Taffeta And Brocade

By Marie Belmont.

Taffeta and brocade in golden brown tones are interestingly combined in the fashioning of this attractive evening gown for autumn. Touches of dull orange and blue are also noted in the brocade and the former shade is used to line the overskirt that has a flaring heading about the waistline. Bronze beads girdle the low waistline and make a striking decoration for the front of the skirt where they are finished with beaded tassels. Strands of beads strap the shoulders. A noticeable feature of this gown is the length of the skirt.
